GOVERNOR

Should Take Notice of the Many Complaints Against Judge
Greene.

Greene-Woodruff Combination
Detrimental to Republican Hopes.

The Herald Called to Account
by Missouri Republican Advocate.

CRONAN A STRONG CANDIDATE

Gov. Stanley will be the leading speaker of the evening at the closing rally of the Democratic party tonight at Macaulay's Theater, and it would be but fitting on the Governor's part, after hearing the denunciations of Attorney A. J. Carroll, Judge Bingham, Lorraine M. Morris, Assistant Attorney General Morris and others, to announce to his audience tonight that if the proper steps be taken he would remove Judge Greene from the bench, and this would be a popular move just now and a step that would insure peace and quiet anyway until his successor takes his seat. In the courts the other day it was asserted and not disproven that Greene had allowed the county police to serve as henchmen of the local Republican machine, and it developed that a police mob of 250 or more was planned by Greene and his Republican associates. This incentive to riot has aroused the indignation of all citizens regardless of their political fealty. Gov. Stanley went on record last year as being a bitter opponent of mobs and mob rule and it would be fitting that he should remove Greene before he obtains an opportunity to carry out further plans of political vengeance at the expense and detriment of the general public.

The expose of Greene and Woodruff's combination with the Searey-Chilton machine has put the final quietus on these two in further public life, and one speaker at the Democratic rally voiced the statement made in the Kentucky Irish American before and after the primary, and that was there was never a time that Greene stood a chance of defeating Lorraine Mix, and with Mix out of the way how would have been soft picking for Squire Wheeler. Woodruff's case was the same; he finished third in a three-cornered race in the primary and was never a contender. Both Greene and Woodruff's best friends will tell them that the mystery to all is why these two seem to vent their spleen on the Democratic organization, which is not responsible for their defeat, their defeat being solely due to the rank and file of the Democratic party, with whom neither was a favorite. Harassing the Democratic party now by moving polling places and threatening to swear in Searey's "hill billies" for election day reminds one of a spoiled child who takes her doll and goes home if she can't be "king of the hill."

The poor old Louisville Herald is having a hard row to travel in the past few weeks of the political campaign. Starting out on a "holier than thou" platform in behalf of the Republicans, it was given a setback in the expose of Ross, the nominee for Sheriff, and only put up a weak defense in his behalf, for which the Herald's Missouri press associates takes the Herald to task in its latest issue as follows: "The Republican newspaper, the Herald, has been frightened into a weak protest only against this outrage (the Ross indictment) refusing to print Ross' full statement because a short time ago a big libel suit for $250,000 guarding Gen. and Mrs. Sukhomlinoff were charged with high treason, former Minister of War was sentenced to hard labor for life.

damage was instituted by Cronan, candidate for Mayor, which is now hanging fire until after election." Many think the Herald should inform its fellow Republican hooster from Aurora that if the Ross indictment was so weak as claimed that the Republican nominee for Sheriff should have stood trial before election, which is a little premature but the truth just the same. One surprising feature in the present campaign is the wonderful personal strength being shown by Mr. Cronan, the Democratic nominee for Mayor, many independent and Republicans among the better class waving party lines in his behalf, and it is now realized that as a standard-bearer he is one of the Democratic party's best assets. He should carry every ward in the city except the negro Tenth and have a comfortable majority of 2,500 to 3,000, which is large considering the decline in the registration of former years. Another factor in the strength of the ticket is that it contains nominees like Scott Bullitt, Lorraine Mix, Nathan Kahn, Adolph Schmitt, Frank Daehner, Allen E. Smith, Russell Gaines, Charles Foster, Charles Knight, Ben Schulman, John O'Brien, Will Perry and others.

VALERA IS LEADER.

The Sinn Fein conference at its session Friday night in Dublin decided that the members of the organization should be trained in the use of arms, although this will not be compulsory. The conference pronounced that the Provisional Government should be established without delay. It adopted a provisional constitution aimed at securing the international recognition of Ireland as an independent republic and providing for the convocation of a constitutional assembly. At Friday's session Prof. Edward de Valera, member of Parliament for East Clare, who was referred to in the House of Commons recently as having been inciting rebellion in Ireland, was elected President of the conference after Count Plunkett and Arthur Griffith, who also were nominated, had withdrawn. In announcing that Prof. de Valera had been elected unanimously, Griffith said the Sinn Feiners now had at their head a statesman as well as a soldier. Resolutions were adopted demanding "restitution and reparation from England" and urging Irish trade unions to sever relations with English unions. Prof. de Valera's speech to the Sinn Feiners urged them to capture the county Councils in the next elections in order to have the full machinery of government in Ireland in their hands. The convention agreed to carry out the plan. It was decided that the number of delegates to the national convention from clubs shall be on the ratio of one delegate for each fifty members. No club, however, is to have more than five delegates.

AINING ENEMY.

F. M. Sackett, Federal Food Administrator for Kentucky, on Monday reiterated his denial of any intention on the part of the Government to restrict or confiscate supplies of canned goods in the hands of the citizens. There is absolutely no truth in the story that is being given circulation that signs of the food conservation pledge cards are in danger of having part of their canned goods confiscated by the Government. The rumor has been repeatedly denied by the Food Administrator, but, apparently it is persons circulating it are giving aid and comfort to the cause of America's enemies.

WELCOME VISITOR.

Dr. J. A. Averick, School Commissioner of Covington, was a welcome visitor here the first of the week, and was one of the honor guests at the Reichenbach wedding jubilee. While here he met many of his Catholic Knight friends who always welcome him to Louisville.

ANSWER TO MENACE

And A. P. A. Election Followers Who Are Introducing Bigotry in Local Political Campaign—Non-Catholic Editor Windell Rips the Mask They Wear in Deceiving Their Victims:

"Whenever and wherever a Catholic presents himself as a candidate for public office VOTE AGAINST HIM. Not only do that but see how many others you can get to do the same thing. Defeat him because he is a Catholic."

The above quotation is from page 43 of "The Church of Rome in American Politics," the chief campaign document issued and now being circulated by the "Guardians of Liberty."

Every bigot pretends to be patriotic. In his opinion bigotry is the principal ingredient in true Americanism. Nothing could be farther from the truth.

The Americanism that does not accord equal liberty to every citizen, whether he be Protestant, Catholic, non-Catholic or non-Protestant, is a fraud.

Unless each citizen is free to accept the church of his choice, RETAIN and exercise ALL his civil and political rights, religious liberty becomes a fiction.

The man who makes a candidate's religious faith a test of his fitness for office taints his own Americanism and stands self-convicted as a Judas to Liberty.

When a man is permitted to select his creed, but is denied certain civil and political rights because of his choice, he ceases to be free.

It is not necessary to endorse the other man's religious creed to defend his rights. The writer is neither Catholic nor Methodist, but he maintains that Methodists and Catholics are entitled to EQUAL rights.

The right to choose MY religious creed implies the right to reject yours. If because I happen to be with the majority, I can PENALIZE YOU because of a difference in faith, then when YOU have power you can PUNISH me for the same reason. The only way to protect our own liberty is to defend the rights of each other. Thus we insure freedom to the free.

To oppose or defeat a citizen for public office because he is a Catholic, or a Protestant, is open, brazen, double-headed treason to the principles upon which this republic was founded. Calling one's self a "Guardian of Liberty" is not convert a Benedict Arnold into a Patrick Henry.

The spirit of bigotry would PUNISH a man for refusing to conform to certain religious ideas. The principle is the same whether you cut off his political head or burn him at the stake. A political thumb-screw is just as un-American as the kind our gentle ancestors employed a few centuries ago as a means of forcing people to agree with them in politics and religion.

A. P. A. is the antithesis of Americanism. It would recall the spirit of persecution from the great, turn backward the dial of Progress and repeat the horrors of the past. Opposition to its purpose and principles is the highest duty of the true patriot.

Methods change, but principles are eternal. The modern bigot substitutes the business boycott for the ancient thumbscrew. In place of cutting off the innocent ears of Catholics, he denies them political rights. He can not place their feet in stocks, but would organize a secret conspiracy to prevent any Catholic from holding public office.

These bigots employ the poisoned dagger of the character assassin. They disjoin their victims on racks of suspicion and slander.

The principle is unchanged. The design is the same—compulsion, instead of persuasion, punishment in lieu of logic.

The crusade against Catholicity is the result of prejudice. It is a real menace to free institutions. It is the effort to punish Catholics "Guardians of Liberty" go as far as they dare. What their methods lack in brutality they make up in the refinement of cruelty.

The infliction of punishment because of a difference of opinion is a relic of barbarism. It is monstrous and infamous regardless of the methods employed. Nothing could be farther from the spirit of true Americanism than the programme and principles of the "Guardians of Liberty." Not only do they inflict punishment upon the innocent, which is damnable, but their press and professional agitators coin the agony of their victims into gold. The fact that they glory in such work is proof of total depravity.

These "Guardians of Liberty" condemn Catholics unheard, pass judgment in secret and inflict punishment in the night. At the same time they pose as patriots, pretend to love liberty and defend virtue and purity. People are deceived by the mask they wear. In ripping this mask from the face of Bigotry, I not only hope to vindicate its victims, but also render a lasting service to our common country and help preserve the heritage of free institutions.

When America was convulsed with a great civil war, Catholics and Protestants stood shoulder to shoulder. Together they camped in the swamps, marched through the wilderness, prayed, fought, suffered, and their dust lies mingled upon every battlefield of that desperate war. And when peace was made together they set about peaceful pursuits. Why can they not preserve that peace among themselves in the spirit of Him who living and dying enjoined upon all men to "Love one another?"

The American constitution and the constitutions of every State guarantee liberty of belief and worship. Catholics and Protestants in joint assembly wrote these guarantees. Why now listen to the designing men who try to violate them?

Today in every section of the land, in every city and township, in almost every hamlet, Catholics and Protestants are living together as neighbors and friends. Why permit this friendly relation to be disturbed by uncharitable, un-Christian and un-American appeals to prejudice, passion and ill-feeling?

Tomorrow, as today, and for generations to come, Catholics and Protestants must live together as neighbors. Shall it not be also as friends?

PLEASED THE WAR DEPARTMENT

The Houston Chronicle of late date reproduces in full the following interesting article from the Beaumont Enterprise, which is one of the finest expressions of the work of the Knights of Columbus that we have ever read:

"Column after column has been used in describing the great work that has been done by this organization and by that since the war has started and little has been devoted to the activities of the Knights of Columbus. This organization also has done great work, and it deserves full credit for what has been accomplished and for what is being done at this time. A campaign was inaugurated during the month of July, and in ten days' time a fund of $1,000,000 was raised as the nucleus of this work. This fund is being continually increased, and Knights of Columbus buildings have already been installed in eighteen encampments and cantonments, and others are rapidly nearing completion. The good resulting from this movement surpasses the expectations of those who conceived the idea, and the most cordial co-operative spirit exists between the Knights of Columbus and the Young Men's Christian Association, which also has Government recognition as the representative of the non-Catholic bodies. This work is entirely new to the Knights of Columbus, their regular work being in an entirely different channel. The Catholic church never felt the need of an organization similar to the Y. M. C. A. for the reason that the social life of its young men is supplied through other organizations, and the average Catholic young man needs no organization other than the church itself to keep him in close touch with religion. This war work is something entirely different, and the burden of seeing it through was shouldered by the Knights of Columbus when its need was felt on the Mexican border last year. "The Knights of Columbus had the organization and were willing to give the time and attention necessary to the furthering of a project of this kind. They were called into service at the beginning of the present war, partially because the Catholic hierarchy and the Catholic people recognized their special fitness for the work, and partially because the War Department asked them to take it up, as the War Department had been particularly pleased with the work of the Knights of Columbus conducted their recreation centers on the Mexican border. "The men who comprise the Knights of Columbus Committee on War Activities are big business men in their own communities, and they represent many parts of the country. The Chairman is Col. P. H. Callahan, of Louisville, Ky., President of the Louisville Varnish Company. These men are making great personal sacrifices; they are serving without salary, and each of them is doing about three men's work. The committee maintains headquarters at 730 Woodward building, Washington, D. C. The chaplains and secretaries who are in charge of the buildings at the various camps are being paid salaries which merely cover the expenses of a bare living, but like those serving on the general committee they are making every sacrifice that they may serve God and country. The running expenses of this work are being met by the general treasury of the Knights of Columbus; the fund itself, so generously donated by the people, plus that secured by loving every sacrifice that they may serve God and country. The running expenses of this work are being met by the general treasury of the Knights of Columbus."

Four Masses on Sunday Were

SPECIAL CHOIR FOR TOMORROW

There were four masses celebrated for the soldiers in the three Knights of Columbus buildings at Camp Zachary Taylor on Sunday morning. The first mass at the Auditorium was celebrated by Chaplain Rawlinson at 6 o'clock. At Building No. 3, Chaplain Mahoney, of the 333rd Regiment of Infantry, celebrated mass at 6 o'clock, and at 8:15 o'clock at Building No. 2 celebrated mass for his regiment and others in that vicinity. At the 9 o'clock mass at the Auditorium a choir of soldier boys sang various religious hymns and a solo, "O Lord, I Am Not Worthy," was rendered by W. T. J. Doyle, of Brazil, Ind. Private Hubert Turner, of the 309th ammunition train, was the organist. Lieut. Miller, Private O'Malley, Holmes, Casper, Knuckey and many others composed the choir. Chaplain Rawlinson, of the 325th Field Artillery, celebrated the mass and his remarks were with reference to the Government being very anxious that her soldiers keep in a perfect physical condition, etc. The attendance at all four masses was approximately 6,000. Chaplain Rawlinson announced that he would be at the main building Wednesday night for those who desired to take Instructions and a time would be set that was most convenient for the soldier boys. It was also announced that Thursday, November 1, being All Saints' day and a holy day of obligation, mass would be celebrated at 6 o'clock sharp.

On next Sunday at the 9 o'clock mass at the Auditorium there will be a special musical programme rendered by the choir from St. Mary Magdalen's church, with a harp and violin solo. This choir has the reputation of being the best in the city and the boys look forward with a great deal of pleasure to hearing them.

Father E. A. Baxter and the sodality of girls from St. Louis Bertrand's church are arranging to equip one of the rooms in K. of C. building No. 2, near the base hospital, where the Blessed Sacrament can be reserved. This is being done so that in case of serious illness the Blessed Sacrament can be obtained without the delay of going into Louisville.

On Friday afternoon there was a meeting of all of the chaplains at Camp Zachary Taylor, at which the following were present: Chaplain E. S. Mahoney, 333rd Regiment of Infantry; Chaplain A. J. Rawlinson, 325th Field Artillery; Chaplain W. E. McPheters, 334th Regiment of Infantry; Chaplain L. B. English, 336th Regiment of Infantry; Chaplain R. N. Cloyd, 327th Field Artillery. Chaplain Mahoney, being the senior chaplain at Camp Zachary Taylor, was elected Chairman. The meeting was called to consider ways and means of handling the spiritual and recreational work of the chaplains at the camp. The next meeting was held on Friday at 2 p. m. in the Y. M. C. A. building 163.

The Indiana boys made No. 2 building their headquarters for receiving visitors and many little groups gathered there to enjoy some home-cooked or home-baked food. Secretary Kelly has done a lot of hard work getting things in shape, but now that the players and grandcolas have come in even larger crowds of the boys come in to enjoy the facilities afforded them.

The soldiers of the Alton, Ill., Boys' Society went to holy communion in a body on October 21. Another bundle of Victrola records was received from Indianapolis, and Mrs. Adam Horvitz sent twenty-five music rolls which were especially appreciated, as the supply from New York has not come to hand.

Billy Sullivan, the old White Sox catcher, sent a supply of tobacco and cigars for the soldiers. Secretary Kelly is receiving many requests from civilians who come out to Building No. 2 every Sunday to find soldiers who care to take Sunday dinners in the city. Needless to say there is but little effort necessary to fill the requests.

FATHER VOLZ BETTER.

The many friends throughout the country of Very Rev. J. R. Volz, O. P., who has been seriously ill at Sts. Mary and Elizabeth Hospital, will be glad to learn that his condition is much improved and that he expects to soon be able to return to St. Rose, where he is professor of theology for the advance students, who will later enter the Dominican House of Studies at Washington, D. C.

MACKIN COUNCIL.

At Mackin Council's meeting Monday night the reports of the various committees were gratifying. Arrangements are nearing perfection for a mammoth euchre and lotto party on November 20, and a cordial invitation is extended all friends of the council. The Social Club has again organized and announced the opening dance on Thursday evening, November 8. Morris Buttner is the President, William Bonnell is Vice President and Leo Connelly the Secretary, and they promise a very enjoyable series of dances. Tomorrow morning there will be a meeting to make final preparations for the opening of the basketball league season, and all who are interested should attend. The Initiation Committee reported that progress is being made and that there will be a good class for initiation on Sunday afternoon, November 25.

IRELAND

Two Views of the Convention and What Its Work
Portends.

Protestant Bishop Urges That
Discontent Is a Serious Menace.

Cork Examiner Hopes Findings
Will Accord With Irish Ideals.

SPIRIT OF CONCILIATION GROWS

According to the Irish Weekly Independent, a well known Protestant Bishop, the Right Rev. Dr. Gregg, speaking at the annual synod of Ferns, in referring to the Irish convention said that all Irishmen of good will could not but hope that some settlement based on adequate securities would be arrived at. Whatever might be the issues great changes inevitably lay before them. It was useless to deny, the prelate stated, that if a form of government did not rest on the consent of the governed, a system abstractly sound might prove unworkable, and the Imperial Government had taken the view that the internal discontent of Ireland contributed a more serious menace to the empire than a dual legislature.

Dr. Gregg also stated that it was plain that the larger number of politicians were in favor of going a considerable way toward satisfying the aspirations of the majority, and many Unionists had shown lately that they no longer considered the union as a cardinal element of Imperial security, and accordingly it behooved them to adjust their understandings to the fact that a change, whatever its form, was coming. He reassured the minds of those who imagined of things might compromise loyalty to the King. It would not. Ireland was not going to be a republic any more than it was before the union. If duly constituted authority gave Ireland a new form of government the true loyalty was to accept it and do everything in their power to make it a success. Loyalty to the crown and unionism, according to him were not necessarily equivalent terms. There was loyalty in Ireland before the union, there was loyalty which vehemently deprecated the union, and there could be loyalty still if the union were legally dissolved. In the eighteenth century, the Bishop reminded the members of the synod, the Protestant church of Ireland officially recognized Ireland as being a distinct country, and not merely a constituent part of a larger kingdom. The dissolution of the legislative union would not mean quitting the empire or "losing their King." The church of Ireland had seen establishment by law come and go, and had seen incorporation with the Church of England so the same way. It was in a position to see the legislative union come and go, if such a course were legally and authoritatively settled.

The views of Dr. Gregg show in their general tendency that the spirit of conciliation is gaining ground. While anxious to meet their old opponents half-way, the Irish Nationalist press has not ceased to call attention to the nature of the government which the country requires. The Cork Weekly Examiner states editorially that the government of Ireland in the past has always been vacillating in its character, autocratic and despotic in the old coercion days when the Tories held sway, and blundering, unreliable and profuse in promises that too often failed.

CAST YOUR VOTE.

Next Tuesday will be election day, and it is the duty of every voter to go to the polls and cast his ballot. The Democratic nominees, who are all capable and reliable men, will be elected without doubt, but that is no reason why any Democrat should not vote. The Republicans, while conceding the election of the Democratic nominees, will be on hand for a purpose. That purpose is to reduce the normal majority in the city and county, and then to boast of defection in the Democratic ranks. Be on hand and give our nominees a big majority and rebuke those who would involve Louisville in turmoil and trouble.

WHY IS IT?

Why is it that the officials of the United States Government, who are so careful of the soldiers' and sailors' welfare, stand idly by and see the thousands of Catholic soldiers and sailors insulted daily and weekly by the menace and its tribe of dupes? Men who are giving up their all for their country do not relish being called "Paps" and "Roman traitors" by the fake patriots whose idea of patriotism is to raise the American flag over a school house and circulate dark lantern literature against Catholics in election time.

Healthy, conservative and persistent advancement of morals among our young people are endangered by the public dance hall. The proposition that they open on Sundays should not be given a moment's consideration. One such Sunday dances all would cause more ruination and distress than ten open Sunday saloons. Those who would open such places will not hesitate to take advantage of the young and unwary. It is inconceivable to think that our officials would permit Sunday public dancing under any circumstances.

FUTILE.

The Herald's transient editor has been making our neighbor ridiculous. Today they push out one dummy and tomorrow another dummy. First they have one tryout and then another tryout. Their shots have reached neither Cronan nor the Democratic ticket and have all proved futile.

THOSE PLOTTERS AGAIN.

The True Voice does not know how much truth is in the charge made in Parliament last week that Germany was plotting to create another rebellion in Ireland. Considering the intrigues that have been revealed during the past six or eight months, it is not at all improbable. The Sinn Féin leaders in Ireland may see in the prospect of German aid the hope of their cause. That the tension there has been gradually increasing is evident from the meager reports which have been allowed to reach this country. Search for arms has been prosecuted relentlessly except in Orange quarters, and naturally enough the Irish people are filled with resentment. The material for an outbreak is being prepared, and the O'Leary type of Irishman in this country welcomes the portent of trouble.

We believe that were it not for the professional trouble-makers in the vicinity of New York there would be no Bernstorff plot to land arms in Ireland. That worthy is not dealing directly with any revolutionary leaders in Ireland. The means of communication is through this country and the agency is the same coterie of plotters who brought about the disastrous uprising of Easter week in 1916. These men are using Ireland for their own selfish purposes. They would ruin Ireland any day to gain some advantage to themselves. We believe their motives are generally understood in this country; but it is not so in Ireland, where disappointment and uncertainty have driven many Irishmen to desperation, and fitted them to follow any leader who can promise results.

A rebellion in Ireland at this time would be the worst calamity that could befall the country. The Easter week rising was only a flash in the pan. Not one Irishman in a hundred knew that it was coming, it never got well started except in Dublin, and it was suppressed there within a week. Its results were horrifying enough; but they will be as nothing to what would follow a rebellion now. All hopes of Irish freedom would be destroyed at one stroke and even a worse military tyranny than followed the Dublin fiasco would be inflicted on Ireland. The worst enemies of Ireland could wish no more miserable fate for her than that the false plotters in this country and their German allies should succeed in bringing about another rebellion financed from New York and armed from Berlin.

Now that Secretary of War Baker has given permission to any fraternal society to erect headquarters in the army encampments, we await with interest to see the Junior Order and Guardian of Liberty representatives in the service of Uncle Sam, that is if there are any. The A. P. A. press and its monkey followers have been yelling that the Catholics were monopolizing the army sites by taking care of the Catholic soldiers in the Knights of Columbus headquarters. Now there is an opportunity for the A. P. A. patriots to show how many representatives they have in the service of Old Glory.

SOCIETY CARD PARTY.

The Young Ladies' Sodality of St. Mary's church will give their annual card party on Thursday afternoon and evening, November 15, at St. Mary's Hall, Eighth and Cedar streets. In addition to many beautiful hand-made articles there will be a gold tally prize both afternoon and evening. Games will be called at 2:30 and 8:30 o'clock. A pleasant time is assured to all who attend.

CELEBRATE THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

Rarely has so interesting a service been held in Holy Name church, Third and O streets, as that which occurred there Monday morning, when Gen. Michael Reichert and his amiable wife celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary. In honor of the joyous event the church was beautifully decorated, the altars being embowered in sprays of green leaves and white and golden-hued chrysanthemums. At 9 o'clock as the mellow tones of the wedding bells died away there floated through the sacred edifice the notes of the wedding march as down the aisle walked the bride and groom of fifty years ago. The procession was led by Misses Marguerite and Emma Crono, granddaughters of the jubilarians, attired in dainty white and carrying shower bouquets of yellow blossoms. Next came relatives and friends from near and far, filling the center aisle seats. Arriving at the altar Gen. and Mrs. Reichert were seated inside the chancel rail and Rev. Father John O'Connor ascended the altar steps and began the celebration of the solemn high mass. Father O'Connor preached the sermon, in which he said the worthy couple, who were esteemed and loved by all who knew them, had come before the altar of God to give thanks for his blessings. Fifty years was a long period in life, but Gen. and Mrs. Reichert had lived as they vowed, for God and each other, and had well discharged the duties of life, which were crowned with a Godspeed. They found this day of peace and thanksgiving, and friends and neighbors rejoice that they see this day.

FORTY HOURS' PRAYER.

The Forty Hours' devotion will next take place here in St. Denis church on the Cane Run road, beginning with the high mass Sunday morning and coming to a solemn close on Tuesday. As this is the youngest parish in this county much interest will attach to the services, at which a number of our local priests will assist.

HELPING THE ORPHANS.

The members of the St. Vincent's Orphan Home Sewing Society met Wednesday and spent a pleasant day making garments for the orphans. During the winter months the society will meet the second and fourth Wednesdays. Mrs. Thomas Keenan is President and Sister Cyrilla is Secretary and Treasurer.

Tomorrow morning the choir of St. Mary Magdalen's church will sing at the 9 o'clock mass at the K. of C. Auditorium at Camp Zachary Taylor. Mrs. Fred Harz will have charge of the music and will play the organ, and it goes without saying some excellent music will be rendered.

ST. MARY'S.

Last Sunday Rev. Father Westermann and the people of the parish celebrated the sixtieth anniversary of the church of the Immaculate Conception, Eighth and Cedar streets. It was in the nature of a home-coming and many old-time parishioners were present. Father Westermann celebrated the high mass and preached the sermon, and in the afternoon there was solemn vespers, benediction and Te Deum. Special music was rendered at both services.

BLESSED NEW SCHOOL.

Last Sunday was an active and auspicious day for the pastors and good people of St. Cecilia's parish. At 3:30 in the afternoon Rev. Father Robert Craney, the pastor, presented a class of seventy-five, a number of them converts, to whom the Right Rev. Bishop O'Donoghue gave the sacrament of confirmation and preached a kindly and feeling sermon. The Bishop then blessed the new St. Cecilia's school building, recently erected and which will long endure as a monument to the progressive spirit of the Catholics of the West End.

Sunday night the Rev. Fathers Cahill and Logan, of the St. Louis Bertrand missionary band, inaugurated a two weeks' mission that has thus far been well attended, the church being thronged every evening to hear the eloquent Dominican pulpit orators. The services are held at 5 and 8 o'clock in the morning and 7:30 in the evening.

THE WISP OF WORLD DOMINION.

LOYALTY TO COUNTRY.

"The paramount duty of American citizens in the present crisis is a hearty and loyal obedience to the constituted authorities," declared Cardinal Gibbons in a sermon on "Loyalty to Country," which he delivered in the Cathedral at Baltimore last Sunday. "Be slow to criticize," the Cardinal continued. "Remember that you view the situation from one angle; your rulers contemplate it from various angles. They have lights and sources of information that are closed to you. Your judgment of the administration and your criticism of their official acts should be always subordinated to a generous and whole-souled submission to their rulings. It is theirs to command; it is yours to obey. And in manifesting your loyalty to your country you will be pursuing a sacred and honorable course, and you will be following the inviolable traditions of your fathers from the foundation of the republic. I thank God that we live in a country where liberty is granted without license and authority is exercised without despotism, where the Government holds over us the scepter of its protection without interfering with the God-given rights of conscience."

WARNS THE IRISH.

The Irish-American Constitutional Liberty Committee was formed in Chicago on Monday at a meeting of Chicago Irish-Americans, under the guidance of T. P. O'Connor and Richard Hazleton, members of the Irish Parliamentary party in the British House of Commons. Michael J. Flaherty was elected Chairman and W. P. J. Halley Secretary. O'Connor warned against permitting any constitutional amendment to embarrass any of the allied nations. "The constitutional movement in Ireland is working successfully to secure self-government for the Irish people," he said. "It refuses to purchase liberty for Ireland at the price of the liberty of the rest of the world."

TURKEY DINNER.

Much enthusiasm centers in the turkey dinner which the Auxiliary of the Good Shepherd is planning for Wednesday, November 21. That day has been chosen for the dinner in order that the soldiers now at Camp Zachary Taylor may have opportunity to attend.

SOLENN PAPAL CHAPEL.

The solemn Papal chapel which should take place on the anniversary of the Pope's coronation has, as usual, been postponed to December 22. The Holy Father chose the same date for postponement last year, or perhaps the preceding day. Both days are dear to his heart, for it was on December 21 he was ordained priest, and it was on the following day, now almost ten years ago, that he received episcopal consecration from the hands of Pius X. in the very Sistine Chapel where the solemn high mass will be celebrated.

IRELAND.

of accomplishment when the Liberals held office. Referring to the convention, the Cork Journal adds: "Both Liberals and Tories have failed in their efforts satisfactorily to govern Ireland and both should welcome, if substantial agreement be reached, the findings of an Irish convention which knows the country's requirements, and is primarily interested in her welfare. No system of government that any Irish convention could devise could be less in accord with Irish ideas than the system of government in force at present. That is putting the convention's work at the lowest estimate, but it is not unreasonable to assume that justice, humanity, a broad outlook and liberal financial provisions, will form the basis of the structure that it is engaged in building up in Ireland. If any people in the world deserve justice and appeasement the Irish people do, and it may be hoped that over the chaos and discontent that at present prevails in the country a wise and just system of government devised by the convention will supervene to bring that peace and confidence which impartial justice to South as well as to North can only secure."

IRISH AND FAITH.

The solace and comfort which the Irish soldier gathers from his religion is one of the phases of front-line life frequently touched upon by the late Major William Redmond in his letters home, some of which Mrs. Redmond has collected into a most interesting volume. One of these, given to the Associated Press, the popular Irish leader wrote, shortly before his death:

"The fortitude the men seem to draw from their faith is great and marked. A man who has been with his chaplain and who has prepared himself by the sacraments is ready for any fate, and shows it in his very demeanor. Often the writer has heard officers declare their pleasure at the devotion of the men to their religion, and frequently these officers have been of other religions themselves."

In another letter Major Redmond writes of the work of the French priests: "With all the evil that has followed in its train it has been followed by a most beneficial result from the war. It has led to the revival of religion in a most remarkable way. As to this practically everyone is agreed, and it is apparent in a hundred directions. Perhaps this revival is most marked in the French army, and there it is attributable in no little degree to the splendid record of the French priests in the army."

"To many people it seemed a wrong thing that the minister of the Prince of Peace should be called upon to take up arms and play a part in the terrible work of bloodshed and slaughter which has converted so large a portion of Europe into a veritable shambles. What seemed wrong, and what from some points of view was wrong no doubt, has in the result turned out a blessing. The spectacle of thousands of priests marching and fighting for the country and the flag has touched deeply the heart of France and many a man who was perhaps ready enough to proclaim himself an anti-Cleric will never so describe himself any more. The bravery of the French priests in battle—2,000 of them have been killed—has been only equalled by their devotion to their holy office."

"By accident or design—one must decide according to the measure of one's charity—the Germans have destroyed many churches and shrines and convents in the war. They present a sad spectacle, but it would seem that in proportion to the ruin thus caused, the faith has taken refuge more and more in the hearts of the people, with the result that in the opinion of most men religion has been perhaps the one thing in all the world so far strengthened and built up afresh amidst the horrible ravages of war. That there has been a similar result all over the world, and away from the actual scene of war, is the testimony of unbiased observers. The fact is that the ruin and carnage have been so stupendous, the sacrifices have been so great, the horrors have been so widespread and have so penetrated into almost every human circle that almost every human being in the world has been affected and has turned to look for hope and comfort beyond the grave."

BUILD THIRTY-TWO CAMPS.

The Knights of Columbus, who have undertaken the religious and social care of Catholic soldiers and sailors, plan a 2,000 building in each camp and cantonment—sixteen of the National Guard and sixteen of the National Army. Each will be capable of holding 1,200 people. Everything will be provided for the comfort and recreation of the men. Working in co-operation with the U. S. C. A., which looks after the Protestant fighting men, the K. of C. is offered largely by volunteer workers. The $1,000,000 which has hitherto been raised toward the required $3,000,000 fund is being expended on the necessary buildings, and the care of the nation's 40 per cent. of Catholic soldiers. About 200 volunteer priests will be sent to the trenches. Funds are urgently needed. Checks should be made payable to the Knights of Columbus War Fund, and mailed to Post-office Drawer 96, New Haven, Conn.

CALLED TO ENLIST.

Noted Catholic prelates who were among the first to voice their support of the Government in the present war have been reaffirming their pleas for patriotism recently. Archbishop Prendergast, of Philadelphia, at a recent conference with the priests of his archdiocese urged support of the Government in all possible respects. He asked every priest under forty to volunteer as a chaplain. His Grace referred to the number of chaplains already asked for and the prospect in the near future for a much larger requirement. He therefore invited all the clergy of the archdiocese under forty years of age to volunteer their services, so that as the need suggested he might assign them either as official chaplains with the United States Government or as workers with the organization now being formed to promote the spiritual and temporal interests of our soldiers and sailors at home and abroad.

HARD TO TELL.

The "patriotic" societies which rote against Catholic candidates for public office have filed no protest against Catholic soldiers being sent to the trenches to defend American institutions. What has happened to the bigotry that they call patriotism?

NOVEMBER INTENTION.

The November intention of the League of the Sacred Heart is "The Conversion of China," where the church is making perceptible headway. We at home, in our comfort and luxury, should give more serious thought to our foreign missionaries as well as to the poor souls steeped in superstition. Money can be spent in no better way than giving to the Propagation of the Faith. Our prayers can be raised for few better intentions than that of the Sacred Heart League for November—"The Conversion of China."

FATHER OF BRITISH TANKS.
Col. E. D. Swinton as promoter of the tanks has won renown.

FOOTBALL.

The only football attraction today will be between the St. Xavier College and New Albany High School squads. Coach Duffy has the Green and Gold warriors in form and their followers look for a decisive victory over the Hoosiers.

COMET OF GLORY.

A gigantic comet, "outclassing in size and brilliancy all those seen in modern times, including Halley's," is speeding through the solar system toward the sun at the approximate rate of 1,134,246 miles a day. The comet will be a thing of glory in the northwestern sky this coming winter, probably remaining visible for three months. It will be at its best in June. To illustrate the size of this new member of the solar system, recall the fact that Halley's comet, which held the center of the stellar stage in 1911, was seen through the great telescopes eight months before perihelion, which is a planet's closest approach to the sun. The new comet was seen fourteen months before perihelion—or six months earlier than Halley's was seen or sought for.
